

Posting Guidelines

In order to preserve your personal privacy and safety it is important that the following procedures are followed when posting comments:

- Only use your first name and refer to other people only by their first name
- Never post any personal information

When posting comments observe the following protocol:

- Use proper English
- Refrain from using text language and shortcuts
- Respect other opinions and use sentence starters such as, I respectfully disagree, you make a good point, I support, etc
- Use factual information and be aware of copyright rules

Any profane language or postings that are inappropriate will result in disciplinary action.

These blogs are for academic purposes so please respect our intentions.